A FEW WORDS ABOUT OUR SPEAKER

Atlanta-based genealogist Linda Woodward-Geiger is the principal researcher, author, and lecturer, of Woodward-Geiger.com (a subdivision of Vitaline, Inc.). She began her career in genealogy in 1978. She became a professional genealogist in 1991 and received her Certification as a Records Specialist in 1994; in 2005 she became a Certified Genealogist. Linda has been lecturing as a genealogical education since 1998; she is a Certified Genealogical Lecturer. In 2003 she began teaching on an annual basis at Institute of Genealogical and Historical Research, Birmingham, Alabama; she makes numerous presentations to local genealogical and historical societies throughout the year.

Although she specializes in Georgia's state and county records and a variety of federal records, particularly those of the southeast region of the United States, she has extensive experience in many other geographic regions of the United States. Her personal research involves New England records. She also specializes in determining Cherokee heritage.
